Guffey Loses His Fight In Pennsylvania--McGarren Lost New York
And Dubois Is Seated From Idaho By The Committee.

PLATFORM FRAMERS WERE BUSY DURING NIGHT

Thus Far No Definite Platform Has Been Drawn Up--There Will Be Many Contests
On The Floor Of The Convention By The Delegations That Were Unseated.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Denver, July 8.—At 12:26 Chairman Bell called the democratic national convention to order, this noon.
It is doubtful if any definite work will be done before the session now planned for this evening when the committee on credentials will report.
Thus far Bryan forces have been successful in all the contested delegations.
Colonel Guffey of Pennsylvania has been practically eliminated from the field.
"Boss" McGarren of New York has been left in the cold.
The Dubois faction, or anti-Mormon marching clubs paraded through the hall waving banners while the bands played "Dixie."

Senator Grady of New York was then recognized and presented the report on the committee on rules which was adopted. The rules are the same as those governing former conventions.
Resolutions of condolence on the recent death of Senator Jones of Arkansas, former national chairman, were presented and adopted.
The committee on resolutions had remained in session until after one o'clock this morning and heard arguments in favor of many of the proposed planks. They adjourned at five o'clock p. m., leaving a sub-committee to wrestle with the problem in detail.

It was daylight when the sub-committee took recess until nine o'clock and it was hoped its work would be finished in time to report a full platform to the whole committee at five o'clock today.

Members of the sub-committee on arrangements of the national democratic convention mounted on horseback on an outing trip, trying to evade momentarily the cares of convention life. Heading from left to right in the picture, these prominent democrats are as follows: Committeeman James Doherty, Nebraska; Committeeman J. W. Wadd, Iowa; Committeeman John I. Mulholl, Colorado; Committeeman J. E. Osbourne, Wyoming; Committeeman element, of Idaho, have been successful in securing recognition.

These were some of the results of the deliberations of the committee which had wrestled with the disputed delegations and in every case sustained the action of the national committee.
Chairman Bell had considerable credentialed adds four Bryan votes in Oklahoma and reduces anti-Bryan vote in Pennsylvania. Guffey says he will carry his fight to the convention floor.

The committee on credentials have decided to unseat ten Guffey delegates from Pennsylvania, fourteen states, including New York, will join in a protest.

The first great demonstration occurred when Senator Guffey in an impromptu speech mentioned the name of "Bryan."

It was like a spark to powder, the demonstrating being confined largely to the delegates.
A Bryan banner was carried to the platform and gave fresh impetus to the cheering.

The band began playing "There'll be a Hot Time Tonight," and delegations carrying the state banners hurried to the rostrum.

Georgia, Connecticut, New York, Delaware, New Jersey, and Minnesota had not taken part with their banners nor with the others.

The galleries took very little part and the demonstration lasted twenty minutes, showing no signs of dimming.

There will be no state ticket put out by the Populist party of Georgia this year. The proceedings of tomorrow's convention therefore will be confined to an address on state issues by Mr. Watson, the naming of Populist electors for the state of Georgia, the selection of a new state executive committee, and the transaction of such other routine business as may be brought up.

Among those taking part in the proceedings are N. M. Omer of Bayfield county, William Bell of Racine county, W. H. McConnell of Lafayette county, E. F. Davis of Jackson county, R. E. Gribble of Iowa county, P. G. Bruner of Shawano county, W. H. Lippels of Price county, and C. E. Tully of Grant county.

GENERAL GOSSIP OF POLITICIANS

SENATORIAL FIGHT HAS MIXED
MATTERS SERIOUSLY.

WHAT IS BEING TALKED

Stephenson's Chances are Declared to be Very Good--Other Candidates Busy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 8.—Although the coming campaign for the republican nomination for United States senator is assuredly to be most strenuously contested by the quartette of candidates—McGovern, Cook, Hutton, and Stephenson—it will be fought out with issues. All the candidates stand for progressive ideas and each will claim to be in sympathy. If not in fact an important part of the so-called La Follette movement. As to such issues as tariff revision, regulation of corporations and trusts, governmental supervision and regulation of railroads and other public utilities, there will be almost perfect agreement among the candidates. Stephenson can claim truthfully to have financed the La Follette cause during years when the lack of his money would have left La Follette hopeless. McGovern can claim to have been a member of the inner circle of the La Follette ring. Hutton can point to his record in the state senate, crowned with his chairmanship of the committee on railroads when the railroad commission bill was formulated and enacted into law. Cook always was in "harmony with the reforms of La Follette," even declining to run for governor in opposition to La Follette after the difference of opinion as to the regularity of the Cook ticket in 1901 had been settled by the supreme court in favor of La Follette.

It seems that sympathy will be one of the biggest elements of the campaign, if not in fact the sole and only issue. Each candidate will shout for the republican party, "and himself." In the element of sympathy this campaign will be somewhat like that of two years ago. Governor Davidson found great strength in the sympathy aroused in his favor through the unaccountable action of Governor La Follette in "turning down" his old ally and faithful co-worker, Mr. Davidson. It was not claimed that Governor Davidson was as brilliant as speaker Leconte, nor as highly schooled and able as an orator, but the people credited "him" with having good common sense and they did not like the idea of his being scoured from the temple after he had served the cause from its infancy. It is remarked already that the same thing will be seen in the coming senatorial fight.

Senator Stephenson put up the money that made the La Follette movement possible of success. No one is heard to argue that success for La Follette would have been possible in any one of the three hard campaigns through which he passed, without the money freely contributed by "Uncle Ike." Now the old man has incurred the displeasure of Senator La Follette. Now the income from the Chautauque circuit is fat and poverty is not present in the La Follette camp, for many salaries are being drawn. Probably the last nothing do with the turning out of "Uncle Ike," but it will be mentioned in the campaign, and "Ike" will not be the lower because this point is raised. No one suspects "the sage of Marquette" with having great oratorical ability nor even the strength to become a power in the senate. He is almost eighty years old. But his managers will make the most of the sympathy which his being pushed aside by La Follette has aroused.

The acknowledged leaders in this campaign are Senator Stephenson and Mr. Hutton. It is suspected that the latter has the backing of Senator La Follette, but the friends of District Attorney McGovern declare that the eloquent Chautauque speaker is for the Milwaukee man.

There are few facts developed as yet upon which to base a guess as to the outcome. It seems that McGovern has lost political strength on account of his indifferently successful grand jury approval, which ended last week in the dismissal of the last twenty-six indictments without trial. His friends say his aggressive anti-graft campaign has made him popular with the common people all over the state. Many good political judges seriously doubt this.

Cook will run well in his part of the state and his great preliminary petition, 28,000 names, shows that he did a great deal of early work. But it will take significant developments to change the prevailing feeling that the fight is between Stephenson and Hutton.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 8.—This is a day of rush and bustle for the auto enthusiasts who will take part in the A. A. LOCKJAW ATTACKS MANITOWOC SOLDIER

Dreaded Disease Seized Him.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Sheboygan, Wis., July 8.—Edward Koch of Company H, Wisconsin National Guard, Manitowoc, became a victim of lockjaw while shooting in a sham battle here yesterday. Koch arrived with his company in apparently the best of health and when about to return to his home complained of severe pains in his face. It gradually became more difficult for him to move his jaws, and the unfortunate soldier told his comrades that he feared lockjaw. An hour later he was unable to move his jaws at all.

Koch contracted a severe bruise a few weeks ago on his leg, the blood clotting at that place and proving painful. This is thought to have been the cause of lockjaw.

INJUNCTION WAS DENIED BY JUDGE

IN THE CASE OF McDOWAN VS. TOWN OF MILTON.

OPINION OF THE COURT

Held Complaint Must Be Dismissed Whether Tax Voluntary or General Highway Tax.

On Monday last Judge Grimm dismissed the action brought by E. D. McDowan against John A. Paul and others, officers of the town of Milton, to restrain them from trying out the money collected as a tax for sidewalks and electric lighting.

The amount collected was about $1,000 and was levied for the purpose of building cement sidewalks in certain parts of the town and also for paying for the electric lighting.

Mr. McDowan alleged that the levying of the tax was illegal and sought to restrain the town officers from paying the money out. The action was first commenced by a temporary injunction obtained from a local court commissioner, about a year ago and the matter has been in the courts ever since.

The judge held that whether the tax be considered as a fund raised by voluntary contribution for a special purpose, or whether it be considered a general highway tax, in either case the complaint must be dismissed. If it be the former, plaintiff may obtain the return of so much as he has paid by an action at law, but he cannot interfere with the distribution of the remainder; and if it be the latter, he has failed to show with sufficient certainty that it is being expended for unlawful purposes.

The opinion of the court in full is as follows:

"This case presents the following state of affairs: Ever since 1901 the town of Milton, pursuant to a resolution adopted at the annual town meeting of that year, has raised a tax ranging from $500.00 to $1,000.00 for the special purpose of building sidewalks and electric lights in the village of Milton Junction—a village of some less than one thousand inhabitants situated in said town. This tax was paid voluntarily and without protest by all the taxpayers in the town and was expended under the direction of the town board for the purposes for which it was paid. The fund raised for sidewalk purposes in 1904 was under a resolution adopted at the annual meeting of that year, and was limited to $1,000. The limit was reduced in 1905 to $500. In 1906 an attempt was made to still further reduce it but the resolution failed. At the annual meeting of 1907 a similar effort to change the amount was made and again failed. It is evident that after the adoption of the resolution of 1901 the electors and town officers treated it as of continuing force until abrogated, and acting upon that understanding the levies of 1905 and 1906 were made and paid and the subsequent one of 1907 attempted. Before the levy of 1907 could however be made the legality of the levy was attacked by the commencement of this action upon the ground among others that the levy had not been authorized by the electors by a resolution operative for that year. Thereupon a special meeting was duly held and the levy authorized by the electors. Nevertheless, and for other reasons, the plaintiff, who is himself a resident of said village and is therefore at least indirectly benefited by the building of the walks, objected to paying his share of this tax, amounting to about three dollars, but finally paid it under protest. His protest was in my opinion sufficient to characterize the payment as involuntary, and to enable him to recover the amount paid by an action at law as provided by Section 1161 B. If the tax was illegal, this action is not however brought for the purpose of recovering the tax paid by plaintiff but to test the legality of this tax and of certain contracts made in furtherance of the purposes for which it was levied and paid, and to enjoin its expenditure for such purposes.

"The first question, which confronts us naturally is—assuming that the tax was unauthorized by law—can the plaintiff maintain this action for injunction? It was held by our supreme court as early as 1883 in Babcock vs. the City of Fond du Lac, that where a tax had been levied by a municipality for a special purpose which, though unauthorized by law, was not in violation of any law or for an unjust or immoral purpose, and where the same had been voluntarily paid into the treasury by the taxpayers, one of them could not afterward maintain an action to restrain the application of the money so raised to the purposes for which it was intended. I know of no law forbidding the taxpayers of a town or city from voluntarily contributing in proportion to their assessed valuation toward raising any sum of money they may see fit for the purpose of making public improvements. And they may do this through the regular machinery of the tax collecting system, and may direct the method of the expenditure of the fund so raised and vest its control in the town officers or any other person or persons; and such fund could not be used for any other purpose. If the raising of such fund in the form of a tax was not authorized by law any taxpayer could refuse to pay his portion of it, or if he had paid it under proper protest, could bring suit to recover the amount he had paid; but this would give him no right to control or interfere with that portion of the fund voluntarily paid by the officers. It follows that if it be held that the board had authority to levy the tax for the purposes stated, yet if it has been voluntarily paid for such purposes by the other taxpayers, plaintiff cannot interfere with its use. He need not have paid his share, but having done so under sufficient protest, he can enforce its return.

I am not however satisfied that the tax levy in the instant case was illegal. The resolution which was adopted at the special meeting of 1907, authorized in my opinion the levy of a valid tax for perfectly lawful purposes; and the question arises whether the board has exceeded its legal powers in the matters complained of. Aside from the right of the electors to voluntarily raise a fund for the special purpose of building sidewalks or making other improvements, where they may see fit to do so, it is the duty of the town board to keep its highways in reasonably safe condition for public travel. This includes travel by foot and by lawful conveyance. What would be a reasonably safe condition necessarily depends upon the density of population, the amount of the travel and all the attending circumstances. While upon the ordinary country highway a turnpike sixteen feet in width, and unlighted, may be ample to safely accommodate both foot and team travelers, in more densely populated portions of a town it may be necessary to prepare the whole width of the highway for travel, and even to prepare side paths or walks for travelers on foot, and fixed crossings, and to protect travelers from injury from teams or other conveyances or from other dangers incident to crowded streets. I am not unmindful of the statute providing a method of applying twenty-five per cent of the highway tax of any portion of a town toward building sidewalks in that portion upon following a certain prescribed method; and while that statute controls where walks are desired irrespective of the question of public necessity, i. e., safety, it in no other manner abridges the powers and duties of the town board to keep all the highways of the town in such condition as to be reasonably safe for public travel under the attending circumstances. It has long been decided in this state with regard to the statute above referred to that it is the duty of the town to keep in repair existing sidewalks and failure to do so may under circumstances subject it to liability. If the sidewalks were unnecessary the town could not take them up; but if it failed to do so, or if they were necessary for the safety of the public in using the streets, the town must keep them in proper repair. The test of the extent of the powers and duties of the town in regard to caring for its streets and highways in every instance is the extent of the requirements for the safety of the public traveling upon the streets. The village of Milton Junction is no more than a thickly populated portion of the town. This is the road center of the town where a large part of its crops are marketed, where people congregate to do their trading, and for other legitimate purposes. It must be obvious that the dangers attending public travel upon the highways or streets intersecting the same is many times greater than in the sparsely populated portion. To safely accommodate the travel by team or other conveyance it is undoubtedly necessary that the streets be made serviceably throughout their full width. From the proofs in this case it also appears that a due regard for the safety of travelers on foot requires that in at least some places there should be safe walks along the sides of the streets reserved for travelers on foot only, and that fixed and safe street crossings should be maintained, and it can hardly be open to question that the same consideration of safety demands that lights be maintained at places where darkness would seriously augment the dangers to travelers. Indeed, it is hardly indicated that lights are not necessary in some places, but rather that the judgment of the town board is at fault in placing the lamps where not needed and that they do not give light enough.

"It is not a question of convenience but solely whether public safety requires the building of walks, crossings, etc., and the maintenance of lights, and it is upon the plaintiff to show that it does not. While some proof has been offered tending to show that cement walks have been built where it was unnecessary for the purpose referred to, and it can not fully satisfy thereof, but it is not fully satisfied by the fact that so far as the walks have been constructed or old ones replaced, they were under the existing conditions reasonably necessary for public safety. The contract with Crossman is no doubt broad enough to cover also unnecessary walks, but I cannot assume that it is intended to do more or other work than may be lawfully done.

"Whether, therefore, the tax be considered as a fund raised by voluntary contribution for a special purpose, or whether it be considered a general highway tax, in either case the complaint must be dismissed. If it be the former, plaintiff may obtain the return of so much of it as he has paid by an action at law, but he cannot interfere with the disposition of what he has paid, and he is not entitled to show with sufficient certainty that it is being expended for unlawful purposes.

"It should also be remembered that this is an appeal to equity and that the plaintiff is in no manner injured by the denial of the relief sought. He is not a resident of some distant part of the town, who might receive but slight benefits from the improvements complained of, if any, but resides and has his property in that portion of the town which it is claimed will be specially benefited at the expense of the other. None of the others have complained, but on the contrary have by an overwhelming vote ratified the action of the board. Why then should plaintiff, unaided, interfere in their behalf? But I do not base my denial of his prayer upon that ground, but, principally upon the ground that he has failed to affirmatively prove that any part of public funds have been expended otherwise than as required to maintain the public highways of the town in reasonably safe condition for public travel."

The factories in the south end of the town are running quite busily considering that it is the dull season for some of them. Only one has decreased the size of the force and that one will start up today in full blast again.

The Janesville Cement Shingle Co. have their men working sixteen hours a day to keep up with their orders. Yesterday they were preparing a carload of cement blocks for shipment to Waterloo, Wis., where they have the contract for the shingles and blocks to be used on the English Lutheran church to be built there. The shingles for the school in Maywood will be ready to ship after about a week of hardening them. About eight thousand shingles will be required for this contract.

The canning factory held off a part of their force on account of the damp weather hindering the ripening of the peaches. They resume work again today. During the interval that they have had to wait for the peaches they have had a small force of men at work hatching and packing the cans of sauer kraut that they put up, preparatory to shipping it.

Though this is the dull season for the Lough Shingle Corporation their business is still good and they are shipping out plenty of orders. The Janesville Cement Post company are making steady shipments of their posts to different parts of the country. A large sign will advertise their goods at W. J. Bryan's home in Nebraska, where the posts are in use.

The Janesville Granite Brick and Stone company report a fine amount of business. Every brick that they have in the yard at present has been sold and they will have to make more in order to fill their present orders. They have secured the contract for a building to be erected at Fort Atkinson by the Board Printing company. This contract will require sixty thousand of their best facing brick. They are also furnishing the brick used in building the church at Waterloo for which the shingle company have the contract for shingles and blocks.

INVESTIGATING MRS.
N. B. TREAT'S DEATH

Madison Coroner Wants to Learn Details of Monroe Woman's Sad Death.

[Special to the Gazette.]
Madison, Wis., July 8.—Coroner M. W. Lynch has summoned a jury to probe the circumstances surrounding the death on Sunday of Mrs. N. B. Treat, of Monroe, who died as the result of a runaway in the state university grounds. The driver of the carriage declares that had not Captain and Mrs. Treat, who were on the vehicle they would not have been hurt, but the coroner will ascertain whether or not blame attaches to the driver or the horse in connection with the possible fatal hitting of the team, for the runaway was caused by the carriage pushing ahead and striking the horse while going down a hill. Developments that the injuries of Captain Treat were not serious. He is in Monroe and will not be summoned to the inquest, unless it develops that without his testimony the facts about the accident are not disclosed, in which event an adjournment will be taken and he will be called to Madison as soon after the funeral of his wife as practicable.

SELVIDERE FACTORY HAS RESUMED OPERATIONS

E. W. Lowell, who conducts a hardware store at Belvidere, Ill., received word from that city to the effect that the big Elmhurst plant, employing 6,300 hands, had posted notice for all help to report for duty yesterday and that work would be resumed on full time. This action is very beneficial to the city, inasmuch as the plant has been working short hours with only a small force for several months.

EVERY WISCONSIN
CROP SUCCESSFUL

NOTHING FAILS ON THE FARM THIS SEASON.

WET WEATHER DRAWBACK

South-Western Counties Have Had Too Much Rain Says Secretary True.

Exceptionally fine prospects for good crops in Wisconsin are announced by John M. True, secretary of the state board of agriculture, in his state crop report for July, issued yesterday.

"Crop reports last received at this office are uniformly encouraging," says Mr. True. "The absence of any general unfavorable conditions affecting growing crops, the exemption from damage from severe storms, except portions of Crawford and Grant counties, and the fact that no crop promises failure, causes a feeling of confidence on the part of the farmer, seldom so generally noted.

"An immense hay crop is now being harvested, and quite a large part of the clover acreage has already been secured in good condition. Pastures remain exceptionally good, and in themselves are a great source of wealth to the dairyman. Winter grains are maturing without drawback and promise well. Hay is heading nicely. Oats are free from smut, and do not generally show an overgrowth causing loss from lodging. Head crops are reported as being generally in clean condition from cultivation.

Good Stand of Corn.

"Corn is still low, but the stand is good and the plant thrifty, and farmers are not discouraged at the outlook. Tobacco is doing well, except that many fields have been injured by cut worms. The early prediction of a falling off in acreage of this crop is verified, and the reduction is estimated at from ten to fifteen per cent from last season.

"Sugar Beets Satisfactory.
"Potatoes are doing well, though bugs are plentiful. Peas promise a fair crop. Sugar beets are making satisfactory growth.

"Small fruits, generally, are looked forward to in abundance, while apples are falling off badly and a fair crop can only be expected from orchards that have been thoroughly sprayed."

The condition of the principal farm crops as shown by reports from correspondents, is given in the following percentages, on a basis of 100:

Winter wheat 94 1/2
Spring wheat 95
Spring rye 96
Oats 97 1/2
Hay 95
Corn 95
Beans 91
Potatoes 95
Cabbage 98
Sugar beets 90
Tobacco 94
Meadows 104
Pastures 105
Apples 70
Small fruits 95

SAYS PLAINTIFF MAY MAKE AN AMENDMENT

Judge Grimm so Decided in Case of State of Wisconsin, vs. George Appleby.

Yesterday afternoon in the circuit court the attorney for the defendant in the case of the State of Wisconsin vs. George Appleby, showed cause why the plaintiff should not be allowed to amend his complaint by the insertion of new matter.

At the close of the argument the judge decided that the plaintiff should be allowed to amend the complaint.

The plaintiff desired to amend by inserting a paragraph to the effect that the Fire and Police commission was not properly constituted at the time of the alleged election of the chief of police inasmuch as one of the members of the commission had not filed his bond at the time and therefore could not vote.

And as not more than two votes were cast, even if one man, no one was elected, even admitting that the commission had the power to elect. This paragraph will now be incorporated in the plaintiff's complaint.

No day was set for the hearing of the case on its merits, but it is probable that it will be in the near future.

BODY FOUND AFTER TWO DAYS' SEARCH

John Birmingham's Body Was Discovered Floating in the River Late Yesterday.

While dragging the river yesterday afternoon about five o'clock William Morris and George Erwin discovered the body of the unfortunate John Birmingham floating in the water near the spot where he lost his life. The body was found near the Kennedy farm about five miles up the river, and about a mile below where the boat capsized and the tragedy occurred on Sunday night.

At first it was thought that the body seen by the searchers was the one of clothes floating in the water, but on a nearer approach it was seen that it was the body of a man.

The remains were taken to the shore and later brought to the city in a launch and taken to Nelson ribs, undertaking rooms.

The funeral services will be held from St. Patrick's church on Friday morning at 9 o'clock and the interment will take place in the Mt. Olivet cemetery.

MISS ETHEL SAYRE
WEDS C. W. RAYMOND

Ceremony Took Place at Bride's Home Sear Fulton at Eight This Evening.

This evening, at eight o'clock, occurred one of the prettiest of summer weddings at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sayre, when their oldest daughter, Ethel, was united in marriage to Charles W. Raymond, only son of Ephraim Raymond of Fulton.

Standing in front of a bank of green and white, Rev. Mr. Price, pastor of the Congregational church of Fulton, spoke the words that joined them as man and wife, the ancient Episcopal ritual being used. Miss Louisa Raymond, sister of the groom, played the wedding march. The decorations, mostly in green and white, were very tastefully arranged. Many beautiful presents were received by the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond need no introduction, as the greater part of their lives has been spent in and near Fulton and both are very popular young people. The best wishes of their sunny friends go with them as they journey through life together.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Myron Green and family and Mrs. Sam McManus and daughters of Janesville; Lucius Miller of Crookston, Minn.; Miss Helen Carman of Beloit; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Erle and family; Mrs. Mooney and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Spike of Edgerton.

Miss Sayre is well known in Janesville, having lived here for a number of years and being a graduate of the Janesville high school.

GEORGE BLAY BROKE

While Engaged in Oiling Machinery of Locomotive at the Northwestern Round-House.

While oiling some of the machinery on a locomotive yesterday afternoon, Fireman George Blay lost his footing and fell, breaking his left wrist. He was standing on the seat in order to reach some of the further rollers, and his foot slipped and he was thrown violently to the dock of the engine. Fortunately no other very serious injuries were sustained, other than the break of the wrist and the jar, but the accident was particularly unfortunate as Mr. Blay had just returned to work after a three months lay-off. Dr. W. H. Palmer attended him.

FALLING HAIR STOPPED.

Baldness Cured by Destroying the Parasitic Germ That Causes It.

Baldness follows falling hair; falling hair follows dandruff; and dandruff is the result of a germ digging its way into the scalp to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality of the hair. To destroy that germ is to prevent as well as cure dandruff, falling hair, and, lastly, baldness. There is only one preparation known to do that, Newb's Herpicide, an entirely new, scientific discovery. Wherever it has been tried it has proven wonderfully successful. It can't be otherwise, because it utterly destroys the dandruff germ. "You destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. HAVE FIRM BELIEF IN FAIRIES.

Curious Superstitions That Are Still Prevalent in Ireland.

In Ireland there have been for many, many ages curious superstitions regarding fairies. In the old time these imagined little elfins were thought to be half human and half spirit nature, and had strange powers over mankind. The good folk of Erin used to prophesy the fables in many ways, a few of them being as follows:

If a child spilled milk on the floor the mother would say: "That's for the fairies," thinking that some fairy had caused the accident. Thus the careless child went unprimed. If one were throwing slaps out of the window or door she must cry out to the fairies: "Take care of the water!" Otherwise some fairy passing might get drenched, and retaliate in some unpleasant manner. If a horse shoe was nailed over the door it would prevent the fairies from entering to do mischief to the inmates. If a small piece of iron were sawed into an infant's garment the fairies would never molest it by causing it to suffer colic pains. If a large vessel filled with pure drinking water were placed in the kitchen at night the fairies on entering would not touch the food there, but content themselves with drinking the water.

Making Shakespeare Ancient.

A well-known dramatic critic visiting Stratford on Shakespeare's birthday and hearing the clangor of the bells, which, from their tower in the old church where the poet lies buried, awoke the little town to its devotions, approached a wintry-looking street sweeper in front of Irving's Inn and said: "Who is the fellow they're making this fuss about? I see you have Shakespeare hotels, Shakespeare gingerbread, and only the other day I saw a man driving to town some pigs called 'Shakespeare's best'—who is he—the fellow who lived in that tumble-down shanty yonder?" The "old-out inhabitant" megaphoned his ear and wheezing, replied: "I think he writ." "Oh, he writ, did he? What did he write—books, confessions of a deer stouler, magazine articles—what?" "I think he writ for the Bible."

Drummers in Endurance March.

Paris was recently the scene of an endurance march of a peculiar kind. Only drummers attached to the military stations at Paris were permitted to take part. The route selected was a "circle around Paris," a distance of 25 1/2 miles. The conditions were that along the whole route each participant must beat the drum continuously in "march time." Only one of those who entered, a drummer attached to the One Hundred and Fifty-sixth regiment of the line, covered the distance and filled the conditions. He drummed around Paris in six hours and five minutes.

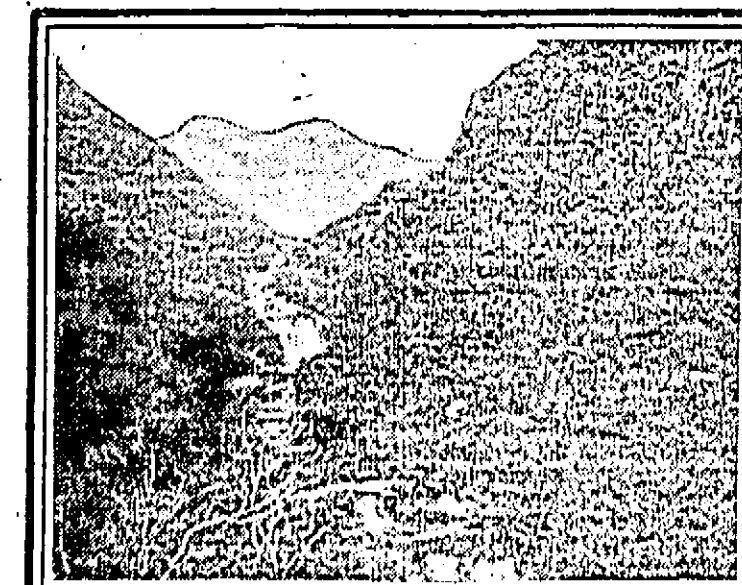

An Unapproachable Horse.

A young man called to take his sweetheart out driving the other day, but when the stunningly attired young lady caught sight of the turnout the young man had hired for the occasion she frowned a headache and refused to accompany him.

"Why, Violet," asked the astonished mother, "why don't you go with him?" "Well, mamma," was the indignant reply, "I consider that a very foolish question on your part. How could I go when the horse he was driving didn't match a single thing I had to wear?"

Giving a Town Color.

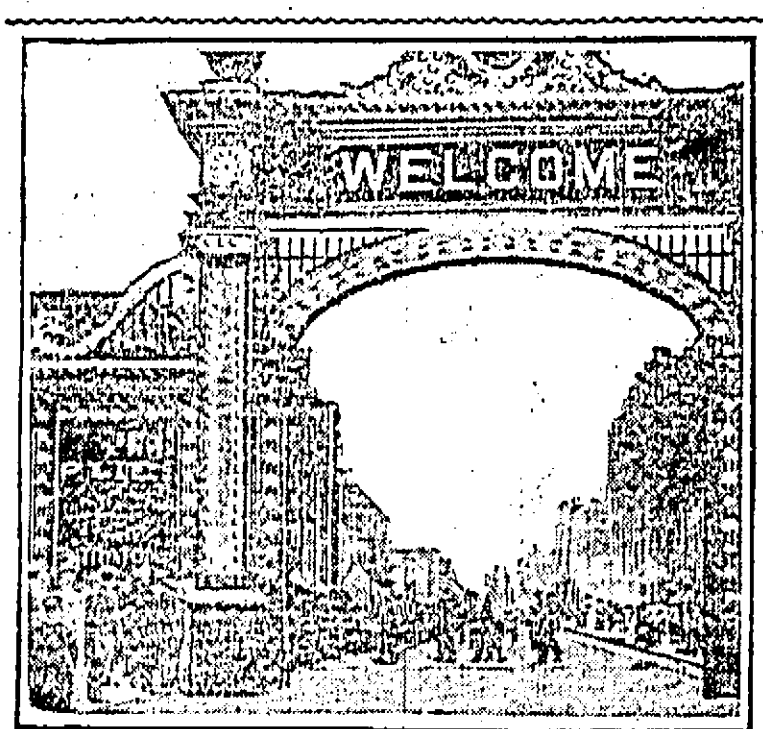

Jason Williams took advantage of the open weather last week to paint his woodshed a beautiful sky blue, and in passing his house we found our sentiment bubbling up at the sight. A blue woodshed with a red door to it comes as near art as you can hope to find it. We hope that others will follow out the idea. Strangers entering a town for the first time judge the people by the color of their woodsheds.—Hometown (Pa.) Banner.

The Price Is the Same.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap sells for no more than ordinary naphtha soap.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is the best naphtha soap; and, because it is best, you should use it.

But if, in a year or two or three, some other manufacturer comes along and makes a better soap, you should use his.

It does not seem possible to produce a better naphtha soap than "P. & G."

The materials of which it is made are very much better than those used in ordinary naphtha soap.

"P. & G." contains no rosin. Most naphtha soaps do. Rosin is cheap. That is why it is used in preference to materials that cost more and do better work.

"P. & G." contains coconut oil. No other naphtha soap does. Coconut oil is the highest grade material used in making laundry soap.

But—and this is important—the price of P. & G. Naphtha Soap is the same as that of ordinary naphtha soap. The materials are very much better. But the price is the same—5 cents a cake.

At all grocers—try it.

The Chance of a Lifetime...

As Abou Hassan once remarked: "All slippery things are not panekes." Bargains such as we append today come like angels' visits—too few and far between to let slip by unheeded. The wash goods we enumerate are goods of fashion and resplendent in the charms of youth. Some people can afford to let them go, but we hardly think nappy can.

Don't They ...Interest You?

Opportunity came our way to secure 50 pieces of late style wash goods, that have been selling at 25c to 35c a yard, at figures much lower than we had reason to expect, just when we needed them. The styles are beautiful, such late novelties as Batiste Glace, Eyelet Embroideries, Broche Fantasie, Reno Novelties, Harlequin, Zephyrs, Broderie, Egyptian, which we offer at 15c.

Lot II—Lattice Embroideries, Embroidered Woven Batiste, Ga Romanza, which we offer at 19c.

Besides, lovely creations from our regular lines which we recently reduced so radically, as follows:

10c Values—Ducks, piques, printed stuffs; good weight, light and medium color, excellent for skirts. 5c

15c Values—Fancy muslins, volles, mercerized checks. 8c

25c Values—Embroidered muslins, checks, stripes, dots, figures, mercerized fancies and silk warp. Embroidered sheer stuffs in beautiful floral patterns. 12 1-2c

35c Values—Lovely muslins, the newest creations, all colors, mostly in white grounds, dots, figures, plaids, organdy muslins, batiste, etc. 18c

60c to $1.00 Values—Fancy summer novelties, many in beautiful patterns; embroidered fine mercerized checks, grenadine weaves with floral designs; imported all black and fancy silk grenadine; Scotch volles; French organdies in handsome large floral patterns on sheer striped grounds, etc. 39c

25c Mercerized Gingham, silk lustre, in checks and Scotch plaids, all colors, large assortment, at 19c

Advertisements would not be half so interesting as fiction if they did not affect so intimately the adventures of our pocket-books—but as it is they are twice as interesting.

AUTHORITIES WILL LOOK INTO DEATH OF EDGERTON MAN

Suspicious Circumstances Surround Death of Henry Kresue

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Edgerton, Wis., July 8.—Suspicious circumstances in the death of Henry Kresue of Edgerton, who was supposed to have been killed by a St. Paul train Saturday night, have caused the authorities of this place to begin an investigation. When last seen he had between fifty and sixty dollars in money on his person and also a gold watch. When the body was found no trace of either the money or the watch could be discovered. Another circumstance which aroused a doubt as to whether or not he was accidentally killed was the fact that his coat was found upon the pilot of the engine when the train reached Madison. It was not torn or dirtied nor was it crumpled up as would naturally be expected if he had had it over him when he was struck by the train.

SERIOUS INJURY TO AN ORFORDVILLE MAN

Mistook Cannon Cracker for Roman Candle and His Hand is Blown To Bits.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Brookfield, July 8.—One of the worst Fourth of July accidents reported, occurred to N. M. Heggar, of Orfordville on Saturday last. He had bought a piece of fireworks which he supposed was a Roman candle and which he lit and held in his hand expecting it to shoot forth a spray of sparks but it turned out to be a firecracker of the large cannon variety and his hand was terribly lacerated. The explosion of the firecracker tore off the flesh of his hand clear to the bone. Belmont Myers, a former resident of Brookfield, but now residing in Rockford, has secured a patent on a combination hammer, seven-eighths of an inch long, and has been looking over the old play factory with a view to locating there and manufacturing the hammer in Brookfield.

There is only one effective way to Stop Indigestion

Most digesters rely on pepsin. But pepsin digests albumen only. It is but one of the elements needed.

Starch, fats and phosphates each require something else.

Then half of digestion is done in the bowels, and pepsin can't do that.

It requires many ingredients to form a perfect digester, and they must be in liquid form.

Kodol has all those ingredients. It does all that the stomach does—all that the bowels do. It digests any food—any mixture of foods—completely.

Partial digesters give only half-way help.

There is always some food left to get hard, and irritate the stomach lining.

That irritation, even though slight, continues the inflammation. That is why the stomach fails to regain its strength.

A weak stomach is like a lame leg.

Use or abuse it and it will never get well.

But give it complete rest—do all its work for it—and Nature very quickly restores its normal powers.

You can't do this by dieting, for there is always some food that doesn't digest.

You can't do it with partial digesters.

You can't do it with tonics, for they spur the stomach to but temporary activity.

It must be done with Kodol. The results then are instant and complete. Every food that you eat is digested. You get your full nourishment, yet the stomach gets absolute rest.

Our Guarantee

On the first dollar bottle of Kodol your druggist gives a signed guarantee. If it fails to do all we claim, your druggist returns your money.

You take no risk whatever. This $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle. Made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, July 8, 1868.—Fire in Footville.—On Monday night, or rather Tuesday morning, the barn attached to the hotel in Footville burned to the ground, involving a loss of about $1,000. It was supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Discharged.—William Kanary, who was arrested on a charge of threatening the life of Justice Hudson this forenoon and was an enthusiastic workman, released on discharge, there being an insubstantial evidence to establish the complaint.

Grasshoppers.—If the present crop of grasshoppers has grown up and come to maturity, it will at least assume the proportions of a nuisance. It does not attain to the magnitude of a scourge. Fields and gardens are full of these insects. In many instances the leaves of strawberry plants are completely riddled, and other plants and shrubs show marks of their presence. Their ravages in some portions of Iowa amount to a complete desolation, and we fear the family is increasing in these parts quite too much for the best interest of the vegetation.

How a Watch Was Used Up.—When the workmen, who put up the new Catholic bell, had got everything in readiness to commence hoisting it, one of them requested Dr. Robinson to note the exact time of hoisting it. He accordingly took a position in the belfry, watch in hand, to comply with the expressed desire. Everything worked admirably and the bell was soon in its place. Just as the doctor was on the point of declaring the time, Justice Hudson this forenoon and was an enthusiastic workman, released on discharge, there being an insubstantial evidence to establish the complaint.

IS URGED TO ENTER SPEAKERSHIP RACE

According to Milwaukee Journal Henry Allen Cooper may contest with Uncle Joe Cannon, if Re-elected.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., July 8.—The Journal today says Congressman Henry Allen Cooper, of Racine, is being urged by prominent Wisconsin republicans to become a candidate for Speaker of the next House of Representatives against Uncle Joe Cannon, even if he doesn't muster a dozen votes. It has been pointed out to him that as a matter of principle he should continue the fight against the present autocratic rule of the Speaker and against the present rules of the House which make representative government a mockery. This movement comes as a result of the bold stand taken by Congressmen Cooper and Nelson in their protest against arbitrary rulings of the Speaker in the last session.

VEST BUTTON WILL BE CHIEF EVIDENCE

Man on Trial for Murder May Be Connected by This Evidence.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Appleton, Wis., July 8.—A little vest button that matches five others on a vest owned by Paul Krause will form one of the strongest links in the chain of circumstantial evidence with which the state will endeavor to prove that Krause murdered Mrs. Mina Grunert, his divorced wife, whose dead body was discovered on the night of June 3, suspended from a hook in a little clothes closet on the second floor of her home in this city. Paul Krause yesterday was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ryan for examination and when the state had completed the presentation of its evidence, Judge Ryan confirmed with the application to have the accused man bound over for trial in circuit court on the charge of murder in the first degree. Krause was remanded to his cell in the county jail without bond and will be tried at the next September term of court.

The little button that will figure so conspicuously in the case was found on the closet floor alongside of the dead body of the murdered woman. Coroner Johnston made the discovery and at once went to the room of Paul Krause and compared the button with five others on the man's vest. One button was missing from the garment and the one that was found by the coroner matched those on the vest. Krause, before the coroner's jury some weeks ago, testified that the vest in question was the one he wore the night preceding the tragedy. At the examination today the coat that Krause wore on the night prior to the tragedy was also introduced as evidence. This garment, according to the state, bore several stains of human blood.

The state in the trial next September will contend that Krause entered the house of Mrs. Grunert early in the morning of June 3 and remained there until his divorced wife, who had been living with her sister, arrived. The state will claim that Krause murdered his former wife and then to hide the crime and give conditions the appearance of suicide, hung the body from the closet hook where it was found twelve hours after the crime. The defense, it is claimed, will prove an alibi.

SAIL-BOAT UPSET; MARINERS RESCUED
